POINTS & AUTHORITIES

1. PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on AUGUST 28 2024 at 9:30AM, in Judge Chen’s virtual courtroom, before the Honorable Judge Edward Chen, I will, and hereby do, move for an order granting a Motion to Strike the improper non-party document filed to Docket No. 99. The motion is based on this Memorandum, and Plaintiff’s concurrently filed Declaration.

2. Plaintiff, Ashley Gjovik, respectfully submits the following Memorandum of Points and Authorities in support of Plaintiff’s Motion to Strike the documents at Docket No. 99. Plaintiff also requests the Court consider issuing an Order prohibiting non-parties from unilaterally filing declarations to the docket for this case; as otherwise, based on prior conduct, this kind of disruptive and prejudicial harassment of the Plaintiff is likely to continue throughout the entire lawsuit.

III. STATEMENTS OF FACTS

3. A non-party filed a Declaration “In Objection to Plaintiff’s Omnibus Motion Dkt #93 and Request for Judicial Notice Dkt #96” at Docket No. 99. The document was dated August 20 2024, then submitted to this court and docketed on August 27 2024, the day before the motion hearing; which was the first time Plaintiff was made aware of the filing.

4. On April 19 2024, under Docket No. 62, the same non-party filed a Declaration “In Support of Defendant’s Motion to Strike.” The document was dated April 16 2024 and mailed to this Court, arriving on April 19 2024 and entered to the docket on April 23 2024, per the docket notes. The non-party identified herself as the person described in Plaintiff’s Complaint as “Joanna Appleseed.” 4/19 Non-Party Decl at ¶ 1. Appleseed explained she used to work for Apple’s Global Security team. Id at ¶ 4. Appleseed also explained she sued Gjovik in 2022. Id at ¶ 5-6. Appleseed explained she filed the declarations after this lawsuit was 1 “brought to [her] attention” by someone but she does not say who. Id at ¶ 3.

 2 Appleseed also notes she “emailed Apple’s attorney” about Gjovik’s lawsuit asking 3 for “options” to “have [herself] removed from [the] case.” Id at ¶ 3. Appleseed notes 4 that Apple’s counsel “did not reply” to her when she contacted them about this.
 5 Id. Appleseed requested in her declaration that the Court force Plaintiff to remove 6 claims from Plaintiff’s federal lawsuit alleging that Appleseed engaged in unlawful 7 activity, which benefited the Defendant, and which harmed Plaintiff. Id at ¶ 2 and 8 9. Appleseed filed a second Declaration on April 30 2024 at Docket No. 66. This 9 second declaration included additional allegations, contradictions, and unlawful 10 requests.

11 5. Plaintiff filed a Motion to Strike both Declarations (Docket No. 64, 12 67) which was granted by the Court on May 20 2024 (Docket No. 73). Appleseed 13 has now filed her third declaration on August 20 2024 (Docket No. 99). Appleseed 14 is not a party to this lawsuit, nor is she expected to be a party in this lawsuit in 15 the future. Plaintiff denies, disputes, and objects to all other facts alleged in the 16 non-party’s three declarations.

17 6. Plaintiff’s complaints allege Appleseed caused Plaintiff harm and did 18 so as an agent of Apple under various vicarious liability theories. Apple’s Motion 19 to Dismiss at Docket No. 48 references Appleseed in several sections, including 20 the Bane Act section, writing: “Plaintiff previously pled that in 2022 ‘Joanna 21 Appleseed’—while no longer employed at Apple ...—filed an FBI report about Plaintiff 22 ....and ‘retaliatory litigation’ against Plaintiff .... Even if such conduct were to violate 23 the Bane Act, Apple would not be liable as a matter of law.” Def’s Mot. to Dismiss 24 Plaintiff’s TAC at pages 18-19. Gjovik and Apple Inc have not disputed that 25 Appleseed did the things Gjovik alleged in her complaints, but Apple does dispute 26 it should be held liable for Appleseed’s conduct. Pl’s MTS at Docket No. 64, 67.
 27 There is no factual dispute between parties on this matter at this point in the 28 proceeding, and thus it is completely inappropriate for a non-party to attempt to 1 inject their own version of events into the court record.

2 7. As noted in her April 24 and May 1 2024 Motions to Strike, Plaintiff
 3 did not use Appleseed's name in her Complaints out of fear; as noted in Plaintiff's 4 Complaints: "Joanna Appleseed... who worked in Apple's Worldwide Loyalty team"...
 5 "alias because this person tried to sue Gjovik in 2022 for naming her in charges and 6 legal filings alleging witness intimidation, and Gjovik fears she might try to do it 7 again." OC at ¶ 132; FAC at ¶ 630; SAC at ¶ 430. Further, for 8 months in 2022, 8 it was a crime punishable by incarceration for Plaintiff to say or write Appleseed's 9 "names" in any medium other than "testifying in administrative or judicial 10 proceedings." Docket 64-1 Declaration, Exhibit I, Page 71.

11 8. In Appleseed's August 20 2024 declaration, Appleseed complains 12 that Plaintiff is speaking about Appleseed. "Plaintiff continues to reference me and 13 make allegations against me in this lawsuit." Appleseed 8/27 Declr. at ¶ 3.
 14 Appleseed complains about Plaintiff's request to file a sur-reply at Docket No. 93 15 and Plaintiff's Request for Judicial Notice at Docket No. 96, and asks again for 16 the Court to remove references to her, or discussion about her actions, from this 17 litigation.

18 9. Appleseed frames her latest filing as an "Objection" and 19 "Declaration." Id. The Request for Judicial Notice referenced is a request to 20 consider recent 9th Circuit decision establishing new precedent and expanded 21 protection for workers from online harassment by their coworkers and managers.
 22 Appleseed appears to take issue with Plaintiff's inclusion of excerpts from the 23 legal memorandum Plaintiff drafted in January 2022 and which Appleseed sued 24 her over in February 2022, demanding the document be removed from public view.
 25 Docket 64-1 Declaration, Exhibit A, Page 6; Pl's Req. for Judicial Notice at 26 Docket 96, Exhibit W. Appleseed complains again of this document in her latest 27 declaration at issue.

28 IV. ISSUES TO BE DECIDED

1           10. First, this Court is to decide whether the “Declaration” is a proper 2 filing, and whether the non-party is allowed to file the document; and if not, the 3 entry at Docket No. 99 should be stricken in its entirety.

4           11. Next, if the entry is not stricken in entirety; then this Court should 5 decide whether parts of the document at Docket No. 99 should be stricken, and if 6 any content remains, this Court should decide whether to include the document 7 as part of its consideration of Defendant Apple’s pending Motions to Strike and 8 Dismiss, and/or Plaintiff’s Request for Judicial Notice.

9           12. The Court must also consider if doing so would convert Apple’s 10 Motion to Dismiss to into a Motion for Summary Judgement, and if so, would 11 please allow Plaintiff to adequately prepare for such a motion.

12           13. Finally, the Court may decide if Appleseed’s Declarations can be used 13 as evidence by Plaintiff in support of her claims against Apple.

14           V. ARGUMENTS

15           A. The document is an improper declaration & improper amicus.

16 17           14. Appleseed’s August 20 2024 declaration contains numerous legal 18 arguments and attempts to summarize and characterize legal matters. This is not 19 what Declarations are for. “The purpose of a declaration is to submit evidence; it 20 is improper to use a declaration to present legal argument.” Silver v. Executive Car 21 Leasing Long-Term Disability Plan, 466 F.3d 727, 731 n.2 (9th Cir. 2006). In re
22 Marriage of Heggie, 99 Cal. App. 4th 28, 30, n.3 (2002). Further, the Amicus 23 Declaration offers very few facts and provides no supporting evidence such as 24 exhibits.

25           15. A declaration “must be viewed just as counsel would view live testimony, 26 and may be attacked for any admissibility deficiency.” § 37:39. Opposition papers—27 Evidence, 4 Bus. & Com. Litig. Fed. Cts. § 37:39 (5th ed.) Local Civil Rule 7-5(b) 28 explains: “An affidavit or declaration may contain only facts, must conform as much

1 as possible to the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(e), and must avoid conclusions and 2 argument. Any statement made upon information or belief must specify the basis
 3 therefor. An affidavit or declaration not in compliance with this rule may be stricken 4 in whole or in part.” The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 47 and Rule 56 also 5 explains a similar expectation. Affidavits from the moving party may only be 6 considered on a motion to dismiss where they raise no fact controversy but only a 7 question of law. Data Disc, Inc. v. Systems Technology Associates, Inc., 557 F.2d 1280 8 (9th Cir. 1977). This Amicus Declaration is in opposition to Plaintiff’s filings and 9 thus in support of Apple’s Motion to Dismiss so it’s subject to this expectation.

10 16. There is no right of nonparties generally to submit an amicus brief.
 11 16AA C. Wright & A. Miller, Federal Practice and Procedure § 3975, pg. 383 12 (2021). Instead, “the amicus must file a motion for leave to file the brief” when 13 consent cannot be obtained. Id. The amicus brief itself must accompany the 14 motion for leave, Fed. R. App. P. 29(a)(3), and the filings must be served on all 15 parties. Fed. R. App. P. 25(b). Sweigert v. Cable News Network, Inc., 20-cv-12933, 16 19-20 (E.D. Mich. Mar. 21, 2022). Appleseed did not request leave to file the 17 brief/declaration, nor did she obtain consent from the parties, thus it is improper.
 18 She also did not serve the parties, and it was only brought to the Plaintiff’s 19 attention one day before the hearing.

20 17. An amicus curiae is not a party and has no control over the litigation 21 and no right to institute any proceedings in it, nor can it file any pleadings or 22 motions in the case. See, e.g., United States v. Michigan, 940 F.2d 143, 163-64 (6th 23 Cir. 1991) (disapproving of the “legal mutant characterized as ‘litigating amicus 24 curiae’” because it impinged on the inherent rights of the real parties in interest).
 25 NGV Gaming, Ltd. v. Upstream Point Molate, LLC, 355 F. Supp. 2d 1061, 1068
 26 (N.D. Cal. 2005).

27 18. The vast majority of amicus curiae briefs are filed by allies of litigants 28 and duplicate the arguments made in the litigants’ briefs, in effect merely

1 extending the length of the litigant's brief. United States v. Michigan, 940 F.2d 143, 2 164-65 (6th Cir. 1991). Ryan v. Commodity Futures Trading Com'n, 125 F.3d 1062, 3 1063 (7th Cir. 1997). This Amicus Declaration did support Apple's arguments in 4 their Oppositions and as such essentially provides Apple additional pages and 5 allows them to evade the Rules of Evidence that would have prevented them from 6 making these types of allegations in their Reply.

7 19. The amicus curiae should present an "objective, dispassionate, 8 neutral discussion of the issues." In re Enron Creditors Recovery Corp., Case No.
 9 01-16034 (AJG), Adv. No. 03-92677, Adv. No. 03-92682, 2 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. May.
 10 20, 2008). If the information offered conflates or confuses the issues before the 11 court, like it does here, the request for leave to file it should be denied. Id. Long 12 Island Soundkeeper Fund, Inc. v. New York Athletic Club, No. 94 Civ. 0436, 1995 WL 13 358777, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. June 14, 1995).

14 20. If the proffer comes from an individual with a partisan, rather than 15 impartial view, like here, the motion for leave to file an amicus brief is to be 16 denied, in keeping with the principle that an amicus must be a friend of the court 17 and not a friend of a party to the cause. C. Rembar, The Law of The Land 330
 18 (1980). Leigh v. Engle, 535 F. Supp. 418, 420 (N.D. Ill. 1982). Where a petitioner's 19 attitude toward a litigation is patently partisan, they should not be allowed to 20 appear as amicus curiae. Liberty Lincoln Mercury, Inc. v. Ford Marketing Corp., 149 21 F.R.D. 65, 82 (D.N.J. 1993).

22 21. The purpose of an amicus curiae brief is "to assist the court on 23 matters of law." Banerjee v. Bd. of Trustees of Smith College, 648 F.2d 61, 65 n. 9 24 (1st Cir. 1981). It is not, however, to be used to assist with respect to evidentiary 25 claims; therefore, it should not offer factual information favoring a particular 26 party. Id.; see also Strasser v. Doorley, 432 F.2d 567 (5th Cir. 1970). "An amicus 27 who argues facts should rarely be welcomed." Id. at *15 (quoting Strasser v.
 28 Doorley, 432 F.2d 567, 569 (1st Cir. 1970)). See also, Reynolds v. United States

1 Gov't, 7:22-CV-00178-FL, 8 (E.D.N.C. Jul. 21, 2023).

2 22. Similar to Sweigert v. Cable News Network, Inc., this case also has a 3 non-party submitting an amicus brief wanting to “share facts and evidence” 4 without seeking concurrence from either party and the Plaintiff actively opposes 5 the Amicus document. In that case the Court agreed to strike the amicus filing 6 noting it contained “conclusory allegations of Plaintiff conspiring with a court 7 employee to commit fraud on the court.” Sweigert v. Cable News Network, Inc., 20-cv-8 12933, 20-21 (E.D. Mich. Mar. 21, 2022). Appleseed’s Amicus Declaration is of 9 the same character and should be stricken, as her prior two were.

10 B. An amicus brief or declaration is not appropriate for motions to 11 dismiss or to strike.

12 23. When making a Motion to Dismiss for failure to state a claim 13 determination, the Court must assume that the plaintiff’s allegations are true, 14 construe the complaint in a light most favorable to the plaintiff, and resolve every 15 doubt in the plaintiff’s favor. Grid Systems Corp. v. Texas Instruments Inc., 771 F.
 16 Supp. 1033, 1036, 20 U.S.P.Q.2d (BNA) 1207 (N.D. Cal. 1991). Affidavits cannot 17 be treated as proof contradictory to well-pleaded facts in the complaint. Slagle v.
 18 U.S., 228 F.2d 673 (5th Cir. 1956). The court may take cognizance of and consider 19 facts disclosed otherwise than in the complaint, such as in an affidavit, brief, or 20 argument, only where such facts are undisputed or the parties consent to their 21 consideration. Boro Hall Corporation v. General Motors Corporation, 124 F.2d 822 22 (C.C.A. 2d Cir. 1942).

23 24. The Court “is normally required to look only to the allegations on the 24 face of the complaint” when adjudicating a motion to dismiss. Roth v. Jennings, 489 25 F.3d 499, 509 (2d Cir. 2007). Accordingly, the Court generally cannot consider 26 affidavits and exhibits on a motion to dismiss. Faiveley Transport USA, Inc. v.
 27 Wabtec Corp., 758 F. Supp. 2d 211, 216 (S.D.N.Y. 2010). For the purpose of testing 28 whether the complaint states facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, the 1 allegations of fact cannot be challenged by affidavits to the contrary. Hoy v.

 2 Progress Pattern Co., 217 F.2d 701 (6th Cir. 1954). Nor may the court consider 3 conclusions of law and unwarranted inferences of fact. Lewis v. ACB Business 4 Services, Inc., 135 F.3d 389, 39 Fed. R. Serv. 3d 1376 (6th Cir. 1998).

5 25. “Motions to strike are to be decided on the pleadings alone.” Medevac 6 MidAtlantic, LLC v. Keystone Mercy Health Plan, 817 F. Supp. 2d 515, 520 (E.D.
 7 Pa. 2011). If there is a disputed question of fact or law on a motion to strike, the 8 court should defer action on the motion and leave the sufficiency of the allegations 9 for a determination on the merits. Oneida Indian Nation of New York v. New York, 10 194 F. Supp. 2d 104 (N.D. N.Y. 2002). Appleseed’s request is not appropriate for 11 a 12(f) motion to strike or a 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss.

12 26. Even though affidavits usually constitute “matters outside the 13 pleading” within the meaning of Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b), an affidavit filed by the 14 plaintiff which merely reiterates the claim stated in the complaint in general and 15 conclusory language does not convert a Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) motion to one for 16 summary judgment. Aldahonda-Rivera v. Parke Davis & Co., 882 F.2d 590, 14 Fed.
 17 R. Serv. 3d 713 (1st Cir. 1989). Further, in opposition to a motion to dismiss for 18 failure to state a claim, a plaintiff may submit materials outside the pleadings to 19 illustrate the facts that the plaintiff expects to be able to prove, even if such 20 materials were not attached as exhibits to the complaint. Fed.Rules Civ.Proc.Rule 21 12(b)(6), 28 U.S.C.A. Runnion ex rel. Runnion v. Girl Scouts of Greater Chicago and 22 Northwest Indiana, 786 F.3d 510 (7th Cir. 2015). Plaintiff attached several exhibits 23 to her prior Motion to Strike in order to show some of the facts she expects to be 24 able to prove and which are in direct contraction with the unsubstantiated 25 allegations against her in these Amicus Declarations.

26 27. This latest attempt by Appleseed to introduce another Amicus 27 Declaration is yet another attempt to “poison the well,” “stack the deck,” and 28 attack Plaintiff’s character. This matter should be decided on the merits – not a

1 legal street fight. Plaintiff should not have to immediately defend her integrity and 2 character at the beginning of her own lawsuit.

3 C. The sur-reply was denied, so there is nothing to respond to.

5 28. The Court denied Plaintiff's request for leave to file a sur-reply on 6 August 22 2024 (Docket No. 98). Therefore, the non-party "response" to 7 Plaintiff's proposed sur-reply is moot and should be denied.

8 D. Appleseed's non-party filings in this case are unlawful attempts 9 to harass and intimidate the Plaintiff, in continuance of the multi- 10 year campaign to get Plaintiff to drop claims and change her 11 testimony.

12 29. Appleseed is one of the actors who has undertaken a multi-year effort 13 to silence the Plaintiff, to get Plaintiff to drop/reduce legal claims against Apple, 14 and to change her testimony against Apple. Appleseed has been transparent about 15 these aims – citing the reason behind her incessant stalking and harassment of 16 Plaintiff as including: Plaintiff's NLRB charge against Apple, Plaintiff's 17 whistleblower disclosures to the US SEC about Apple, a legal memo Plaintiff 18 drafted for federal law enforcement alleging criminal conduct by Apple, and 19 Plaintiff's claim that Apple's termination of her employment was retaliation – and 20 refusal by Plaintiff to say, as Appleseed has repeatedly demanded, that Plaintiff 21 was fired "because [Plaintiff] leaked IP." (See prior Motion to Strike and exhibits, 22 see also dozens of allegations in the Plaintiff's 2nd Amended Complaint).

23 30. Appleseed alleges in her uninvited and unwelcome unilateral filings 24 to this lawsuit, for which she is not party, that this lawsuit is intended to harass 25 her. She's also claimed that Plaintiff's prior legal activities were also about 26 Appleseed. First, none of this is about Appleseed as she's not a party, and she 27 would no longer be relevant in the matter if she had just left the Plaintiff alone, 28 as the Plaintiff repeatedly requested. Second, Appleseed tried to sue Plaintiff directly, filling the filings and testimony with Plaintiff's protected activity and claims against Apple, and losing that lawsuit. Now, Appleseed has invited herself

1 to this lawsuit, which she is not a party, and is attempting to make herself a party 2 by filing three separate declarations over the last five months.

3 31. If Appleseed thought Plaintiff's actions were actually targeting her, 4 one would think she would have attempted to take additional legal action directly 5 against the Plaintiff, and would not have publicly announced her involvement in 6 this litigation, defending Apple Inc and opposing the Plaintiff, and filing 7 identifying statements to the permanent, public court record.

8 32. All of Appleseed's justifications for harassing the Plaintiff are based 9 on Plaintiff's protected activity directly related to Apple Inc. Despite Appleseed's 10 incessant reference to the now-overruled and vacated March 1 2022 unwritten, 11 oral Decision of a Limited Court of Jurisdiction in the state of Washington, that 12 did not include an evidentiary proceeding, and was primarily based on less than 13 an hour of Appleseed's oral testimony –even that proceeding revolved around 14 Apple Inc, not Appleseed. Furthering this conduct, today Appleseed now alleges 15 that Plaintiff's Complaint in this lawsuit against Apple Inc is “unlawful.” Docket 16 No. 99, ¶ 12.

17 33. In this matter, from the start, Plaintiff attempted to avoid using 18 Appleseed's name in hope that Appleseed would not try to interfere with her 19 lawsuit, or retaliate against her due to her lawsuit, as Appleseed has tried to do, 20 or threatened to do, with her prior charges. Despite not using Appleseed's name, 21 Appleseed has now repeatedly, unilaterally, publicly declared her involvement in 22 this matter. Plaintiff does not need to talk about Appleseed specifically because 23 Appleseed is not a party, and the actions complained of by Plaintiff are all directly 24 related to and for the benefit of Apple Inc. The only person insisting that 25 Plaintiff's lawsuit is about Appleseed, is Appleseed.

26 34. This is a continuation of a pattern of harassment against Plaintiff by 27 Appleseed. (Docket 64-1 Declaration). Two witness statements were submitted in 28 support of Plaintiff, against Appleseed, during that 2022 proceeding. Both statements attested to a pattern of trying to silence Plaintiff about her complaints about Apple, and both attested that they witnessed Appleseed's harassment of 1 Plaintiff, which centered around Plaintiff's government charges against Apple. Id.

 2 Further, it appears Apple still has not told Appleseed to stop interfering with this 3 lawsuit. The ratification standard for vicarious liability is relevant even in these 4 improper filings.

5 35. Appleseed has also attended at least one of the prior hearings on for 6 this lawsuit, naming herself on the Zoom and clearly attempting to intimidate the 7 Plaintiff. Plaintiff was intimidated, did feel harassed, and did report Appleseed's 8 interference in this lawsuit and continued stalking to law enforcement. Over the 9 last three years, Plaintiff has reported Appleseed's conduct to multiple 10 government bodies and law enforcement agencies, including all of these latest acts 11 of intimidation and harassment, as they continue to occur. That is all that can be 12 said in this forum.

13 E. The amicus declaration violates the rules of evidence.

14 36. Plaintiff objects to many statements made in the Amicus Declaration.
 15 Many of the non-party's allegations are false, and most are unsubstantiated and 16 misleading. Fed. R. Evid. § 403 requires a declarant to bear the burden of 17 producing evidence as to the existence of a preliminary fact, including where the 18 preliminary fact is "the personal knowledge of a witness concerning the subject 19 matter of his testimony." Fed. R. Evid. § 403(a)(2). Neither Defendant nor the 20 non-party have substantiated any of non-party's allegations.

VI. CONCLUSION

38. This court commented to Plaintiff in January that “Plaintiff is not expected to try the entirety of her case in the complaint.” Gjovik v. Apple Inc., 23-cv-04597-EMC, 3 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 30, 2024). The court should have more insight now, based on the motions and declarations from Apple’s counsel and Appleseed, as to why Plaintiff felt it necessary to try to argue her entire case in her complaint.

39. Considering all of the above, Plaintiff respectfully asks the Court to strike Docket No. 99 in its entirety; and if not, then to strike the improper statements made within the Amicus Declaration as outlined in the objections above.

40. Plaintiff requests that this type of “evidence” cannot be considered for Apple’s preliminary Motion to Dismiss or Motion to Strike. Plaintiff also asks that the Amicus Declaration can be used as evidence in support of Plaintiff’s allegations of violations of IIED and other claims later in this lawsuit.

41. Plaintiff specifically requests consideration of:

- a. Appleseed’s admission she directly contacted Apple’s lawyers to try to discuss how to reduce Apple’s liability in this lawsuit. (Docket No.’s 62, 66, 99).
- b. Appleseed’s allegation that Apple’s lawyers never replied to her – which means Apple never warned her not to interfere, despite knowing her prior actions. (Docket No.’s 62, 66).
- c. Appleseed’s admission that someone tipped her off about this lawsuit which incited her to file the first Amicus Declaration. (Docket No.’s 62, 66).
- d. Appleseed’s claim of being a “witness in defense” for Apple in the NLRB matter. (Docket No.’s 62, 66).

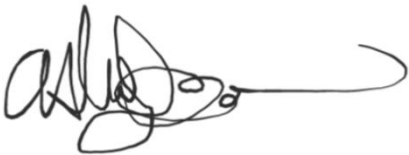

e. Appleseed's requests to force Plaintiff to have to withdraw allegations and evidence against Apple in Plaintiff's federal lawsuit. (Docket No.'s 62, 66, 99).

f. Appleseed admitting all of the above in "support" of Apple's Motions to Strike and Dismiss Plaintiff's Complaint (Docket No.'s 62, 66, 99).

42. Plaintiff requests consideration of 'closing' the docket for non-party filers who are not pre-approved amicus curiae. Plaintiff also respectfully requests if the Motion to Dismiss is converted to a Motion for Summary Judgement, that Plaintiff have more time and an opportunity to present additional relevant evidence.
